World Adaptation Forum 2025

25 April 2025 – MagNet Community House, Budapest

Our Purpose

World Adaptation Forum is an annual international gathering for leaders addressing interconnected crises, systemic challenges, the imperative for a new approach, collaborative solutions, and adapting to inevitable consequences.

Our Commitment

The objective of the conference series is to convene leading experts on the subject to enhance public understanding of systemic disintegration, its potential implications for human civilization and the ecosystem, as well as the development of effective responses. In a rapidly changing global environment, it is crucial to recognize that our ability to act is limited, and we must utilize our available time effectively to determine our course of action.

Understanding the Urgency

Humanity is currently on the brink of a prolonged period of unavoidable decline and societal disintegration, the likes of which no previous generation has ever witnessed. However, the majority of individuals and organizations continue to operate as usual, while the nature of the challenges they face is undergoing a significant transformation. It is crucial for people to comprehend the processes and context surrounding these challenges, enabling them to make informed decisions and understand the actions required to mitigate the potential consequences.
